

CHENEGA LAW ENFORCEMENT AND SECURITY TRAINING

COUNTERING TOMORROW'S THREATS TODAY

THE POWER TO PROTECT

The greatest challenge to Law Enforcement currently emanates from extremism and serious and organised crime. Today's criminals have exploited the digital age to remove traditional borders, making combating such threats a global challenge. The response to these challenges is critical. Chenega International Consulting can provide the necessary law enforcement and security training to clients seeking to realise their developmental goals and maximise their capacity. We offer bespoke training delivered by specialist trainers who have taught, trained and mentored in conflict zones such as, Northern Ireland, the Balkans, the Middle East, Latin America and Africa.

We are strong advocates of continuous professional development and have developed strong professional ties with Ulster University with whom we offer academically accredited training upon reaching bench marked standards.
